12 Benefits of Using MAP/EXCEL Within Your Organization

TRAINING

- Training Needs Analysis...to determine training needs of supervisors and managers, thereby enabling the organization to invest time and money in training programs that have the best return on investment.
- Team Development...to identify the collective strengths and weaknesses of groups of managers who function as a team and develop action plans for team improvement.
- Evaluation of HRD Efforts...to measure the impact of training and management development by using MAP as a pre- and post-training evaluation to assess individual and group improvement.
- Targeted Training...to give trainers a profile of individual strengths and development needs so that courses can be offered on a needs basis with participants attending only those modules necessary.

INDIVIDUAL

- Personal Growth...to enable participants to prepare an Individual Development Plan that outlines the competencies selected for improvement, the actions to be taken, and the support requested.
- Career Development...to assess the competencies and styles/values of employees so that this data can be used as input to discussions and decisions relating to career path alternatives.

- Management Education...to equip managers with an in-depth understanding of the 12 competencies that studies have identified as pivotal to the successful performance of managers in any organization.
- Partnership...to strengthen the relationship between MAP participants and their managers as partners in their ongoing growth as they commit to implementing the Individual Development Plan.

ORGANIZATIONAL

- TQM and Benchmarking...to upgrade the quality of managerial performance against norms for the organization and the industry group to which it belongs.
- Organization Development...to profile managerial performance by department, division, function, or other demographics that enable senior managers to strengthen weaker areas of performance.
- Succession Planning...to identify areas of needed managerial development for an individual to successfully move up to the next level in the organization.
- Personnel Action...to provide performance data on key competencies that can help managers to make personnel decisions on promotions, transfers, and team assignments.